

Maine Revised Statutes
Title 18-A: PROBATE CODE
Article :

§7-766. ADJUSTMENTS BETWEEN PRINCIPAL AND INCOME BECAUSE OF TAXES

(a). A fiduciary may make adjustments between principal and income to offset the shifting of economic interests or tax benefits between income beneficiaries and remainder beneficiaries that arise from:

- (1). Elections and decisions, other than those described in subsection (b), that the fiduciary makes from time to time regarding tax matters; [2001, c. 544, §2 (NEW) .]
- (2). An income tax or any other tax that is imposed upon the fiduciary or a beneficiary as a result of a transaction involving or a distribution from the estate or trust; or [2001, c. 544, §2 (NEW) .]
- (3). The ownership by an estate or trust of an interest in an entity whose taxable income, whether or not distributed, is includable in the taxable income of the estate, trust or a beneficiary. [2001, c. 544, §2 (NEW) .]

[2001, c. 544, §2 (NEW) .]

(b). If the amount of an estate tax marital deduction or charitable contribution deduction is reduced because a fiduciary deducts an amount paid from principal for income tax purposes instead of deducting it for estate tax purposes, and as a result estate taxes paid from principal are increased and income taxes paid by an estate, trust or beneficiary are decreased, each estate, trust or beneficiary that benefits from the decrease in income tax shall reimburse the principal from which the increase in estate tax is paid. The total reimbursement must equal the increase in the estate tax to the extent that the principal used to pay the increase would have qualified for a marital deduction or charitable contribution deduction but for the payment. The proportionate share of the reimbursement for each estate, trust or beneficiary whose income taxes are reduced must be the same as its proportionate share of the total decrease in income tax. An estate or trust shall reimburse principal from income.
